BABY RACER HEARTENS OWNER OF "THE KING"

By J. W. MARCHBANK

King Heather has been sending good colts and fillies to the races for some time and as I confidently expected my premier stallion is also demonstrating his worth as a brood mare sire. Right now everyone is praising the speed and courage of Richstrike, a better than average two-year-old. Richstrike was bred at Heather Farm and is by imported War Cry, of a highly successful line himself, from King Heather's daughter Princess Evol.

I lost possession of Princess Evol shortly after she went from the "ranch" to the race track but so firmly convinced was I of her promise in the breeding paddock I put over a little trade with her owner, giving another mare for her. That the exchange was a good one for both sides is shown by the success of the Princess as a matron and by the clever running of the other in the deal, Peace Princess.

Macaroni, Goldfinch, Meddler, and other stallions achieved fame principally as sires of daughters that became dams of high class winners. So it is natural a breeder is always on the lookout for a producer of that valuable type. "The King," I must say, has not disappointed me in that regard.

Another circumstance that encourages me in my breeding operations is the satisfying appearance of the yearlings by my young stock horse, Xenofol, a remarkably fleet performer on the course, of distinct individuality, and of fashionable blood lines. In an effort to discover the value of Xenofol, of the ever-powerful St. Simon strain, for several seasons I have been sending my best mares to his court. I am following that procedure again this breeding time.

Next year I should know whether or not I have done the right thing in giving ample opportunities to the stallion. A number of his sons and daughters will be out under colors. The race test will tell the tale.

Orange Grove Acquired By Gullible Grocer Turns Out As Bonanza

Baby LeRoy and W. C. Fields, the Hollywood feudists, are together again in Fields' newest staring picture "It's a Gift." Produced by Paramount, it will be shown at the Daly City Theater, Sunday and Monday, February 24 and 25.

Fields, in "It's a Gift," is head of a thriving family who eat him out of house and home, plague his days and torment his nights. He is also the proprieor of the town's leading grocery store.

He has always cherished the dream of owning a California orange ranch where he could luxuriate and just watch the oranges grow and, when his daughter's young man comes to him with a "gyp" proposition, he swallows it hook, line and sinker.

The family is transported across the country in a dilapidated pre-war automobile. When they finally arrive at the ranch, miraculously alive and uninjured, they discover it to be a barren bit of sun-baked desert.

But Fields is not licked yet. And by good fortune and ingenuity he manages to acquire the orange ranch from whose porch he can watch the oranges grow—through the bottom of a glass.

Norman McLeod directed the picture which features Kathleen Howard, Jean Rouverol and Tom Bupp as the members of the Fields family. Tammany Young, Julian Madison and Charles Sellon are prominent in the supporting cast.

John Boles and Loretta Young in "The White Parade" is the second feature.

TO OUR READERS

In working up to the achievement we have ever in mind, that of making the Daly City Record the best weekly newspaper in the state of California, we must have the hearty co-operation of the residents of this live community. The editor hears in unison the ejaculation from all readers:

"Why, how can we help?"

Succinctly stated, you can help the editor to accomplish what you must admit to be his highly laudable ambition by bringing or sending news to the Record office, and, what is equally important, bringing or sending it early.

NEW BODY FOR IMPROVEMENT IS ORGANIZED HERE

Daly City Residents Believe Now Is Opportune Time For Betterments

The first meeting of representatives from practically every civic and fraternal body of Daly City was held last Friday evening at the City Hall. The meeting was called to discuss ways and means of putting in motion the work of securing for the city a number of long needed improvements.

After hearing an outline of the plans proposed, a permanent organization was formed to be known as the Daly City Recreation and Improvement Club.

Officers were chosen as follows: President, L. Johnston; vice president, G. R. Augustien; secretary, Mrs. L. Landini; treasurer, P. Selmi. An Advisory Board was appointed composed of Mrs. Pearl Jones, Mrs. E. Tweston, H. H. Smith and B. Sen-

CHILDREN FROM PERSHING SCHOOL STAR AS ACTORS

Youngsters Play In Stellar Roles In "Goldilocks And The Three Bears"

The large audience of grownups and children who attended the rendition of "Goldilocks and the Three Bears" in the auditorium of the Jefferson Union High School, last Friday evening, enjoyed a rare treat. The play was presented by students of the General Pershing School and sponsored by General Pershing P. T. A.

"We're not real actors, but we hope you'll like our play!" The speaker was none other than Goldilocks herself, a chubby little girl with golden ringlets. The play was liked by all—so well, in fact, that it seemed all too short, and many would have enjoyed seeing it all over again.

Mrs. Louis Gimovsky and Mrs. Gladys Hoffschneider deserve special mention for their part in directing the play.

The eucalyptus shrubbery in a corner of the stage gave a woodsey sort of background for the dainty little fairies and the flower girls with their bobbing petaled heads.

The children taking part in the presentation were: Mary and Goldilocks, Barbara Jean Gregor; Mary's Mother, Barbara Larson; Mary's Father, Donald Howe; Mary's Brother, Eddie Boyle; Baby Bear, Barbara Jean McDonough; Mama Bear, Patsy Fraser; Papa Bear, Robert Vanatyne; Flowers—Dance group: Jean Durkee, Marian Boyd, Isabelle Schuldagger, Ina May Sadler, June Felsch, Virginia Callsen and Frances Cotter; Butterflies: Jackie Donahue, Lucille Ludwig and Dolores Misuraca; Specialty Dances: Marilyn Battyr, Fairy, and Louise Hoffschneider, Baby Fairy. The parts of children of Storybook Land were portrayed by children of the First Grade.

CHARGES MADE IN CONTEST OVER FIRE WARDEN

District Attorney Gilbert D. Ferrell Wants To Know About Activities Of Parks Chief

Appointment of a county fire warden was again postponed for 30 days at the meeting of the County Board of Supervisors on Monday.

A letter was read from Chief of State Parks Snook, in which he threatened to withdraw his recommendation for a three-counties civilian conservation camp in Big Basin if a change were made in the fire warden of this county.

This drew the ire of District Attorney Ferrell, who declared:

"In connection with this matter, I demand to know if Mr. Snook wants his department to be made a political racket to dictate to the San Mateo County Supervisors."

Chairman of the Board Francis agreed with the district attorney, saying: "I feel the same way about this matter. I might say that I notice that two other counties have made changes recently." The chairman referred to appointment of fire wardens in Santa Clara and Santa Cruz Counties.

Supervisor Witt of Daly City here moved appointment be postponed for 30 days.

At this juncture Supervisor Beer attempted to have a motion considered to immediately reappoint the incumbent, Bert Werden. This motion

PENINSULA FIRE CHIEFS CLUB IN REGULAR MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Peninsula Fire Chiefs Club was held at the Viaduct Cafe in San Francisco on Tuesday evening, this week. This club is composed of all the fire chiefs from all towns from San Francisco to San Jose.

Chief Brennan of San Francisco was host of the evening, and, as it was ladies night, First Assistant Chief Thomas Murphy had arranged a good program of talent from the Warfield and other city theaters.

Chief Thomas Cuff of Menlo Park, president of the club, conducted the business session of the meeting. Chief Dugan of the Stanford Fire Department gave an interesting talk on water pressure and hydrants. Chief Andrew Chesney and wife of Daly City were both called on as new members to make a few remarks, which were well received.

An excellent repast had been provided and a good orchestra furnished music for dancing between courses. It was well along in the morning before the members decided they had enough of a good time to go home.

NEW DEAL WINS IN GOLD DECREE OF HIGH COURT

Momentous Decision Holds Devaluation Of Dollar By Congress Legal

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21. (Special to The Record) — The national administration is going right ahead in its plans for the restoration of prosperity now that the Supreme Court, by a vote of five to four, sustained it in the so-called gold cases. The devalued dollar, with 13.71 grains of gold instead of 23.22 grains, is out of the category of uncertain things and standing out in the light on its own legs.

The court handed down an opinion last Monday sweeping away any government or private obligation to pay gold bonds in gold and though its august members held invalid a resolution of Congress that government obligations need not be paid in gold at the same time ruled holders of bonds could not go into court for recovery, on account of possible disturbance of the present financial structure.

With bonds disposed of, the court had to decide the position of gold certificates. This was a clear cut issue, with the majority of the tribunal holding Congress in devaluing the dollar was simply carrying out power of regulating the currency given it by the constitution.

STATE WANTS PAY

A bill calling for the payment to the state of California of $6,462,143 was introduced at Washington this week by Senator Hiram Johnson.

This sum is claimed from the federal government to reimburse the state for money expended during the Civil War in equipping two regiments of federal troops.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE AGAINST DALY CITY MAN

Two Killed When Truck and Pleasure Auto Meet In Headon Collision

A Burlingame man and his wife were killed, a cousin of the man is in a serious condition in a San Francisco hospital, and a local truck driver is in San Francisco city jail, facing two charges of manslaughter and of reckless driving, as the result of a head on collision between an automobile and a truck at Nineteenth and Ocean avenues last Saturday morning.

The dead are Arthur L. Bernestahl, 50, of 123 Primrose road, Burlingame, and Josephine Bernestahl, 37, his wife. Frank Bernestahl, 19, a cousin of the dead man, is in the Alemany Emergency Hospital suffering with concussion of the brain, face injuries and lacerations.

The truck driver, who police claim, cut a corner and was to blame for the accident, is Alexander Gasparolo, 38, of Westlake avenue, Daly City. He was booked at the Taraval police station on charge of manslaughter, reckless driving and cutting a corner in viaolation of law. He is being held by the San Francisco police pending a coroner's inquest.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernestahl were on their way to San Francisco, driving north on Nineteenth avenue, with Mr. Bernestahl at the wheel. Gasparolto was driving south on Nineteenth avenue. Police assert the latter swerved his truck directly into the path of the automobile in a left hand cut onto Ocean avenue.

The Bernestahls were extricated from the wreckage of their car by police and pedestrians. The husband was already dead when police removed him. His wife died two hours later in the Alemany Hospital.

The remains of both victims were taken to Halsted's Undertaking establishment. The San Francisco coroner's office was seeking relatives to handle arrangements for their burial.

Frank Bernestahl is at present writing still in the emergency hospital in a serious condition.

AVIATORS DO GREAT SERVICE UP NORTH

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

Going hand in hand with the movement for the construction at as early a date as possible of the Alaska Highway, opening up to millions a tremendously rich region, is the logical development of air transportation so vital to the peaceful progress of the territory to the north.

Delegate Anthony J. Dimond has submitted to the authorities in Washington a program for a complete network of airways covering the principal sections of Alaska. It is expceted bills will be introduced in Congress to carry out suggestions costing approximately $1,250,000.

The program calls for the establishment of 32 new airports, bringing the total in Alaska up the substantial one of 109.

That Alaska aviation, so important in the development of mineral resources in enabling prospectors to explore what were formerly almost inaccessible districts, will expand rapidly is the opinion of all well-informed persons. Specifically it is pointed out in the Cordova Times that between October 20 and December 26, of last year, 24,939 tons of freight were transported by planes from Cordova to interior points.

We learn from the February issue of "Gold," a highly interesting publication of Toronto, that Richard Finnie, a well known explorer, recently predicted that the Great Bear Lake region in Northwestern Canada will be the nucleus of a new empire and an area of prosperous towns and cities within a few years.

Richard Finnie was born in the Klondyke and knows plenty about mining. He maintains the pioneers of today are younger men than those of the old days, with a different outlook on life. They have faith in the North he says, and work as hard as the old timers, but go about their business in a different way.

He pays a tribute to the aviators who are doing so much to develop the North country. He puts it this way:

"To the Northern pilots, no small credit is due in the pioneering now going on. Their planes carry a variety of loads which is almost limitless. Their works are more important than those of stunt flyers, such as those who cross the Atlantic."

Leigh Brintnell, head of the MacKenzie Air Service, had these pertinent words for the editor of "Gold," as to tendencies up north:

"In our work we see more of the country than explorers could cover in years. I think the work of Northern aviators has demonstrated that the airplane is as much a part of mining as the mill used to extract the mineral."

Conservative estimates are that the gold production of Canada will increase this year to $125,000,000. Last year the total was $104,000,000.

DELEGATES ARE APPOINTED FOR WELFARE BODY

Committee Also Named To Arrange For Picnic In Near Future

The last meeting of the Community Welfare Association was well attended and considerable business was transacted.

A letter was received from the Daly City Recreation League, asking that a committee of two be appointed to represent the association in that body. It was the opinion of the members that the matter of recreation and parks could be best handled by the women, and Mrs. J. Cosbie and Mrs. A. Chesney were chosen.

A general discussion ensued in regard to a picnic to be given in the near future. The president appointed a committee consisting of J. Cosbie as chairman, Fred Mather, Chris Brady, George Perada and Walter England to endeavor to secure grounds and report at the next meeting.

Five new members were voted on favorably.

The women on the social committee—Mrs. J. Cosbie, Mrs. A. Chesney, Mrs. Phelan and Mrs. Johnson—surprised the members by serving coffee and home made cake after the business session.

The regular monthly whist will be held on the next regular meeting night, February 28, and will be held in the club rooms in the Daly City Theater Building.

was ruled out of order as being a negative one.

Witt's motion was then approved.

It was agreed that District Attorney Ferrell should write a letter to Snook, requesting an explanation of his participation in the controversy.

A committee appeared before the board to protest against the practice of sending work for county institutions and offices out of this county. Particular reference was made to the granting of the county laundry contract to a San Francisco firm.

District Attorney Ferrell said he believed the laundry contract would have to be revoked. He asked delay for one week, so as to give him opportunity to study the matter. This request was granted.

The board gave official recognition to the California Pacific International Exposition, which is scheduled to open in San Diego on May 29 of this year.

The board voted to promote a strong county campaign against the project of the state administration to absorb all county roads into the state highway system. This action was the result of a report from County Planning Adviser Hugh R. Pomeroy.

As the result of the reading of a telegram from Mrs. Catherine E. Peck of South San Francisco, former president of the County Social Service Commission, protesting removal of Miss Margaret Loftus from the position of social service nurse, Supervisor Poole demanded to know "why Miss Loftus has been fired."

County Executive Kellogg volunteered the explanation that Miss Loftus is still employed, and that "the matter will be straightened out."

At the suggestion of Mayor Allan F. Hunt of Burlingame, chairman of the committee appointed to study the feasibility of a city and county form of government for this county, the board disbanded the committee.

DALY CITY BEATS GOLD STATE MEAT

(By Al Gould)

The baseball fans gathered at the Harrison diamond Sunday afternoon were furnished a thrill by the local baseball nine, with their last minute batting spree which turned defeat into a great victory.

Bill Kirby and George Regis had many spectacular plays to put in motion at third and short, and these lads went "over the top" in a big way with the fans by their flawless playing. Hughie Smith's base running and the hitting of Regis are more spot-lights that were appreciated by the spectators.

"Lefty" Smith was a great pitcher Sunday, but still he needed some help, and this is what and how he got it in the ninth.

Kondeff singled to right. "Lefty" Smith flied to short. Hughie Smith singled over second, Kondeff stopping at second. Kirby hit a high fly which Pitcher Bogdanoff got under for the second out. Maloney, the idol of the fans, singled to left center scoring Kondeff and putting Hughie Smith on third. With two strikes on Dinneen, Smith started for home on a hit and run play ordered by Manager Martin. Pitcher Bogdanoff, in his haste to catch the fleet-footed Smith, lobbed one over the par which Dinneen sent sailing over second, scoring Smith, Maloney stopping at second. With the winning run on first, Manager Martin ordered Hawley to pinch-hit for Plansky. Hawley scratched a hit to short, filling the bases. Regis connected for his third single of the game, scoring Maloney and Dinneen. Jimmy Jordanoff sent one on its way to deep left, where Bunzon made a spectacular catch, retiring the side. Score:

LEAGUE TRIPLE TIE FOR LEADERSHIP

(By Al Gould)

In defeating the Sunset Federals at the Seal Stadium, Saturday afternoon, the San Francisco Chronicle nine put the leadership of the Stadium Saturday League into a triple tie for championship honors, the same being between the Royces Sunset Federals and themselves.

On Friday afternoon, at the Seal Stadium, the Royce team will play the San Francisco Chronicle nine and on Saturday the winner of this game will take on the Sunset Federals to decide who is who in this league.

Let's hope the local lads will tighten up considerably and win the honors for their great leader, Moe Plansky.

ERRATIC PLAYING LOSES FOR ROYCE

Manager Pfeifer's boys lost a golden opportunity to settle the Stadium Saturday League, second half championship, by their erratic playing Saturday afternoon at the Seal Stadium. Although Pitcher Davies was minus effectiveness, no doubt with good support the game should have been won.

"Babe" Bates excelled at bat and Hughie Smith in the field for the Royces team, while Francis excelled both at bat and in the field for the Federals. Score:

Four and a third million dollars of the $38,000,000 navy public works allotment will be spent for improvements at the Mare Island navy base in San Francisco bay. The same bill provides expenditures totaling $2,624,000 for San Diego's naval air base.

Tornado velocity winds ripped through the San Gabriel foothill district of southern California recently, doing considerable damage, including tearing off a large section of the Santa Anita racetrack grandstand roof. The wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour, caving in many windows.

Although further development of Hamilton Field, Marin County, is said to be "urgent and immediate," PWA funds for construction are exhausted. This field was recently designated by the War Department as headquarters of the First Wing of the Army Air Service. Three and a half million has been spent. Another half million will be needed to finish the work.

U. S. Attorney Hall has asked the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for a writ to continue the injunction preventing the Wilshire Oil Company from producing oil in excess of prorate allotments. The court took the issue under advisement and set March 29 as the date to hear the appeal against the injunction which had been previously filed by the oil company.

Legal action to test the State Board of Equalization's power to close without a hearing cafes and establishments for alleged liquor law violations is probable, following appeal to the courts by two establishments ordered closed in San Francisco recently. The cafes were granted an injunction preventing the board from closing them until a hearing had been held.

E. Raymond Cato, who served more than 20 years in the Los Angeles police department as captain of detectives, and then took leave of absence four years ago to become chief of the California Highway Patrol, has been granted a police retirement pension by the Los Angeles Pension Board. His pension will be $148 a month, but he said he plans to return it to the city as long as he holds his patrol chief job, paying him $7000 a year.

A sharp decline in the number of crimes reported to the state bureau of identification for January, 1935 over January, 1934, is shown in the first month report of the bureau. Exclusive of murder and manslaughter, last month's figures were 2,803 crimes. A year ago they were 3,476. Burglary led the list with 1,786 cases. Fake checks and forgery totaled 233; pickpockets, 48; purse-snatching, 42; robbery, 283; miscellaneous, 404.

Aimee Semple McPherson, who recently left her Los Angeles four square gospel for a world trip, has failed in an attempt to enlarge the four square idea to a national scale. She and promoters sought to raise $100,000 to rid the country of Communism and other subversive elements. She and the promoters failed to raise enough money to make it worth her while to carry on the campaign.

Closed last October along with three other Amador County mines because of strikes, the Argonaut Mine has recommenced operations. Another of the four, the Central Eureka, opened recently with a skeleton crew of 40 men. Yet another, the Amador, is negotiating for a settlement. Opening of the Argonaut brought mingled relief and fear to the county where business has been practically at a standstill since the 500 miners struck.

California's relief needs are believed to have reached the peak this month, with expenditures estimated at $12,300,000. SERA relief requirements have increased steadily in this state from $4,633,000 last July to its present huge total. Up to February 1st relief has cost $40,000,000 since July, practically all contributed by the federal government. With the opening up of agriculture, the number of jobless is expected to begin dropping.

A building of Class A design is being constructed in Hollywood which will house a new commercial motion picture film laboratory within two months. When completed, the present plant will be able to develop 150,000 feet of positive and 75,000 feet of negative film a day. The corporation owning the laboratory, International Cinema, Inc., will also exploit the new Regan-Day process, a process developed by the organization's president which will make it possible for American actors to appear to be speaking in a foreign tongue when their pictures are being shown in foreign countries and the talking parts are translated into the language of that country.

Prints Gay With Color Now Arrive

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

PLAYING the game of fashion, the next move is to acquire a bright simple daytime wearable frock which has the freshness of the new season in its looks, to wear under your fur coat during lingering snows and departing wintry chill. Later this gay little gown will companion admirably with a chic light wool topcoat in role of a smart springtime ensemble.

If it is your custom to buy ready-mades a casual saunter through leading dress departments will be your budget's undoing, for the new between-season's dresses are not to be resisted. A most exciting feature about the early spring arrivals in the shops is the abundance of frilly ornate neckwear which lends a delightfully feminine air to the new modes.

The woman who likes the fun of making her own simple daytime frocks will find inspiration-plus in the spring fabric displays which in their gay colorings have turned winter into spring within store walls. Walking through the aisles and aisles of fascinating, joyous-looking prints and the rows and rows of voguish linens that flaunt their vivid peasant colorings before enchanted eyes, and the novelty cottons which were never more novel, no matter how conservative you may have been up to this season in matter of colors and patternings you will throw discretion to the winds and indulge to your heart's content in the giddiest, prettiest, most flattering materials you have known for this many a day.

As to the new prints the arrival of the first robin in your garden is no surer sign of spring than is their appearance on the style horizon. You will be delighted, if bewildered, by the surprising variety of colorful materials that are just as practical as they are good looking.

The three frocks shown here illustrate but a fraction of the perfectly beautiful washable prints that are in good taste now for wear under a coat and for later on when no coat is necessary. These attractive dresses are made up in rayon chulla crepe, in the brightest of colorfast colors.

For campus or office wear or for resort wear with light accessories, the tailored frock to the left, of print in a spaced conventional dot design with its ascot type scarf and cuffs of self-fabric, is both smart and practical. There are no fussy details or tricky places that your iron cannot reach in a hurry, and you probably know that you can wash and iron these chulla crepe frocks with no more special care than fine cottons.

The frock with the two-tone tie will carry you through a day that includes shopping, luncheon, matinee and tea. The lines are becomingly simple, the better to accentuate the beauty of the design of colorful leaves against a dark background. It is easy even for the amateur to work with this crepe it stays so accurately in place as you cut out the pattern, with no frayed or curled up edges as you baste it together.

The print that fashions the dress on the seated figure is stunning. Solid black dots together with white dots that are cross-lined with fine red and black lines stand out boldly against a bright red background. The button fastening and the touch of knife pleating are important style details. As you see from the smart models pictured, you do not have to sacrifice any style points this spring when you look for washable dresses.

TAFFETA TUNIC

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Taffeta silk for tunic, for blouse, for the frock entire, for trimming touches is the great hue and cry for spring. The knee-length tunic-blouse pictured is of printed taffeta in exotic coloring. The skirt is black crepe and the accessories are black, introducing white stitchings on shoes and bag. The hat is a very modish sailor of shiny black straw

NEW STYLES SHOW GREEK INFLUENCE

The Greek influence on current styles has spread so that now it is to be seen in furniture and clothes as well as in the lines of the feminine figure. The popularity of the flat Greek rear profile has made the figure ideal of the Greeks an established vogue.

The influence of this Greek ideal is to be seen in Mainbocher's recent introduction of a gown modeled on the robes worn by ancient Greek dancers. This filmy, graceful garment heralds a turn from the "important" gown, with its stiff formality, to the softness of net and tulle. Its straight skirt is short in front and to the ground in back. There is a garland of fruit or flowers around the waist. Very authentically Greek. And very revealing of the state of one's figure. Hips must be slender, small breasts uplifted in youthful silhouette. The flat Greek rear profile was never more important than to this new and slimly molded style.

To complete the picture, a great vogue for classical Greek furniture is predicted for this spring.

New Fur-Lined Slippers Slender as Satin Pumps

The fur-lined slipper is probably one of the greatest joys the modern woman has ever known. And because it is fur-lined, doesn't mean that it is bulky or clumsy looking. Not at all. It is as sleek and slender as the sheerest satin pump or sandal, but the sole of the foot is protected against cold pavements by a thin, but warm, layer of rabbit or sheepskin, fuzzy side footward.

The strapless brassiere is another boon to smart women. For evening it has certainly become an indispensable item in the society woman's wardrobe. Because of its clever construction of the sheerest and most clinging fabric, it stays perfectly in place without the bothersome need of straps over the shoulders.

Washington

By ANN SUPPLE MURPHY in Chicago Daily News

ALERT, self-poised;
A master brain
Placed in the wilderness to lead;
To give men strength;
To destroy the power
Of grasping kings, of petty hirelings.
"A cloud by day,
A pillar of fire by night."
Of old, Moses was led
By faith through the surging seas
Walled by the will of God.
So the waters of man's covetousness
Rolled back.
Our forefathers,
Like the children of Israel,
In faith and trust
Followed their leader
To freedom.

Immortal Washington!

While the world stands at salute.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHPLACE

WASHINGTON was born in a house facing Popes creek, in Westmoreland county, Virginia, but the house burned on December 25, 1780. The old homesite has been included in the George Washington Birthplace National monument, and the house restored between 1930 and 1932 on its original site.

The old family burial ground, containing the bodies of Washington's father, grandfather and great-grandfather, is included on the 400-acre reservation. The George Washington Birthplace National Monument is 90 miles from Washington on United States route 1 and Virginia State route 3.

The Washington family first settled at Wakefield in 1665, a full century before the Revolution. Col. John Washington, great-grandfather of the President, had come to Westmoreland, Va., in 1656. He died and was buried there in 1676. Maj. Lawrence Washington and Maj. John Washington, his sons, succeeded him.

After their marriages the family lived on separate parts of the Wakefield estate until the house in which George Washington was born burned. After that the Washingtons continued in other houses on the same land, and descendants still live on part of the same Wakefield estate—a continuous possession, in whole or in part, for 264 years—eight generations.

Short Separation May Calm Matrimonial Sea

The difficulties that wreck domestic happiness and bring husbands and wives to divorce courts have been discussed by Hubert S. Howe, M. D., in Good Housekeeping. The sane way to save marriage, he says, is by thoroughly understanding the hazards that threaten it, and preventing as many as you can, by common sense.

"If an actual clash has occurred," he advises, "it may help you both to separate for a short time. Go to quiet spots where you can think things out. In the interim let each of you call up every fine trait of the man or woman you married, his or her difficulties, and the courage and patience with which they have been met. Let your thoughts dwell on the good times you have had together.

"Don't go where you will run into temptation—an unscrupulous man or woman who wants to create a triangle, or a mother who eggs on the conflict. Stay apart only long enough to regain poise. Then come back—to each other, to the home that belongs to you both, to the love that is there, if you will recognize it—always waiting."

GOOD PROGRESS SHOWN BY STATE MOTOR REPORT

Present Facts And Figures Showing Improvement In Member Interest

True to the prediction that motoring activities would be among the first to reflect an upward swing in general business conditions, the annual report of the California State Automobile Association for 1934 reveals that the organization enjoyed its best year since 1930, it was announced today. Providing this evidence by facts and figures, the report was presented at the annual meting of the association in San Francisco by John R. Graham of Merced, retiring president.

Outstanding in the report is the fact that the association registered a net gain in membership for the year, reversing the trend of the three previous years, each of which had ended with a net loss in the number of members. The association ended 1934 with a total membership of 60,420 and retained its position as the largest of hundreds of A. A. A. Clubs.

The report emphasized that a large part of the improved showing for the year was due to the great number of former members who returned to the rolls after having dropped out during the height of the depression.

Motoring activity, recognized as a sensitive indication of general conditions, prevailed at a healthy level in the state during the past year. This was borne out by the section of the report devoted to activities of the association Touring Bureau. Close to 400,000 instances of motor travel service were rendered by the Bureau. A total of 184,675 motoring parties were personally served at association offices throughout northern and central California. In adition, 138,585 telephone inquiries for travel information were handled, exclusive of thousands of such calls to the San Fransico headquarters.

During the year the association answered 92,486 calls from members for emergency road service, an average of 7707 per month, or 253 per day. Segregated as to causes the record of calls shows that 32 per cent were for tire changes; 20 per cent for cars wrecked or disabled to the extent of requiring tows; 12 per cent for battery troubles; 10 per cent fo rignition failures; 8 per cent for starter troubles; 6 per cent for out of gasoline; 5 per cent for fuel system difficulties and the remainder for miscellaneous conditions.

As official road signing agency, the association installed 1386 reflector type signs and 2249 plain type signs. Association road sign trucks, engaged in new work and general maintenance, traveled a total of 96,578 miles. The year saw launching of a new sign project of immense value to the motoring public, the system of route number signs on state highways. The initial project calls for about 10,000 route number signs on 2000 miles of road. The work is being done by the association under a co-operative arrangement with the Division of Highways. It is expected to be completed in time for the summer touring season. The road sign system as a whole consists of more than 100,000 signs of all types, representing an investment of more than $1,000,000. Of that sum the Association has contributed more than two-thirds from membership dues.

Operating on a non-profit basis, the Association Inter-Insurance Bureau refunded a total of $156,603 to insured members. The association Adjustment Bureau recovered a total of $110,629 for uninsured members in automobile accident damage claims settled out of court. Appearances were made for members by the association Traffic Department in 7736 uncontested cases of misdemeanor traffic violations.

The association Highways and Legislative Bureaus conducted intensive studies during the year concerning proposed highway and motor vehicle legislation in preparation for the current session of the State Legislature. The Public Saftety Department fostered expansion of the School Traffic Patrol to a total of more than 8000 boys and engaged in a variety of traffic safety activities.

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Some Little Known Matters That Should Prove of General Interest

(By Maude Larue Ives)

Question: Who founded the fist free kindergarten on the Pacific Coast?

Answer: Kate Douglas Wiggin Riggs, an American novelist, who wrote "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

Question: Who modeled the statue entitled "The Thinker."

Answer: Augusta Rodin, the greatest French sculptor of his age (1840-1917).

Question: What are some interesting characteristics of the Canada goose?

Answer: When autumn heralds the approach of winter, vast numbers from the fur-bearing sections of Canada assemble along the shores of Hudson Bay, and, as the increasing cold drives them to seek a summer home, great flocks arranged in long, converging lines, with an old gander at the head, begin their southward flight.

These living wedges of feathered travelers fly high in the air, the loud, hoarse "honk" of the leader and the answering calls of his followers often being the only sounds that break the silence of the solitary regions through which they pass.

Early in October they reach the coasts of the Eastern and Middle states, and through the winter they are found in various warmer parts of the Union, even to the southern portion of Florida. Their food is chiefly grass and berries, but they also devour small water animals and grain.

The Canadian goose is about thirty-six inches long and has a grayish brown coat. The head, neck and tail are black, the under parts gray, and there is a broad, white patch on the throat.

As this bird is much sought by hunters, because of the delicacy of its flesh, it is included in the list of game birds, which are protected by law during the greater part of the year. These geese are easily tamed if the eggs are hatched by a hen or domestic goose, and they interbreed with tame geese. Cananda geese are wary and intelligent birds, and reach an age of twenty years or over.

Question: What is meant by "Blue Sky" laws?

Answer: Statutes which regulate the issue and sale of stocks, bonds and other securities. The origin of the term is uncertain, but it is supposed to have been derived from a remark of a Kansas bank commissioner, who said that unscruplous companies were capitalizing the blue sky. Some of the stocks and bonds offered continually to the public have little more than "blue sky" as security, and it is to prevent such frauds on the public that laws have been passed to protest investors. The importance of such protection may be understood when it is known that each year, in the United States alone, the investing public is defrauded of $100,000,000 to $125,000,000 by dishonest promoters.

Question: Who wrote the following:

"He prayeth best who loveth best,
All things both great and small;
For the dear God who loveth us,
He made and loveth all."

Answer: By Samuel Taylor Coleridge in his "Rime of the Ancient Mariner."

MAY HAVE FRENCH NORMAN VILLAGE

France may build a Norman village as its exhibit in the California Pacific International Exposition, opening in San Diego, May 29, according to Ernest Guy of San Francisco, trade commissioner of France.

Mr. Guy visited the exposition in beautiful 1400 acre Balboa Park and conferred with exposition officials regarding plans for atypical Norman village. In the village shops would be exhibits of the various industries of France. The village itself woud be peopled with native French, giving a further touch of old world atmosphere.

EXPOSITION TO HAVE PALACE OF RELIGION

The possibility of a Palace of Religion at the California Pacific International Exposition was indicated in a statement issued at the exposition's local headquarters in San Francisco.

Five religious organizations have already taken exhibit space in the exposition—Christian Scientists, Seventh Day Adventists, Rosicrucians, Latter Day Saints, and Salvation Army. Any material increase in the number of religious organizations coming into the exposition may result in a special building being erected for this purpose, it is said.

The Christian Scientists, however, will have a building of their own, costing approximately $20,000, located near the House of Pacific Relations. The exhibit will represent the world wide activities of the Christian Science Church, including the work of its publishing house. The exhibit is supported by the Christian Science churches and societies of California with the assistance of those of Arizona, Oregon, Washington and Nevada.

Oil Clutch Release

It is always less expensive to kill two birs with one stone when having the car serviced, according to L. G. Evans, general service manager of the National Automobile Club.

Therefore, when the floor boards are removed for attention to the battery, have the clutch release bearing lubricated.

LESSON SERMON OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is widom; and to depart from evil is understanding." These words from Job coprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, February 24, in branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Mind." Included among the Ssriptural selections will be: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all" (I Chronicles 29: 11).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Mind, supreme over all its formations and governing them all, is the central sun of its own systems of ideas, the life and light of all its own vast creation; and man is tributary to divine Mind. . . The world would collapse without Mind, without the intelligence which holds the winds in its grasp. Neither philosophy nor skepticism can hinder the march of the Science which reveals the supemacy of Mind" (p. 209).

NEWS LETTER TO SALESMEN

Industrial production in December rose to 85 per cent of the 1923-1925 average which is the highest level for that month since 1929 according to the Federal Reserve Board. Bank deposits made large gains and bank failures were recorded at 56, the lowest since 1920.

Steel trade activity continued expansion, according to Iron Age. The current rate of operations is estimated at 56½ per cent of capacity against 56 per cent last week. Mills producing automobile steel are virtually operating at capacity. The output of pig iron in January showed an increase of 43.8 per cent over the December average.

The automobile industry speeds towar drecovery at 60 m.p.m. without fear of getting a ticket. Retail sales for new passenger automobiles according to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce was 33 per cent higher in the year 1934 than in 1933, and for the month of December 1934, 57 per cent over the corresponding period of the previous year.

A large steel corporation is report to have restored salary cuts which became effective last September through the omission of Saturday work. The workers can thank the better business situation for this return to pay normalcy.

Banks suspended in 1934, according to the Federal Reserve Board, were fewer than in any year since 1920. The number of unlicensed banks at the close of last year was approximately 190—a great reduction from over 4500 banks unlicensed 22 months ago.

Restaurants, dairies, and food stores have attained the highest degree of immunity to failures. The National Industrial Conference Board in a recent study of failure rates in retail establishments records that approximately six out of 1000 restaurants, seven out of 1000 dairies and food stores, and a total of 14 out of every 1000 retail establishments fail each year. Business failures were recorded at 268 for the week February 2, according to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. The comparable period of last week showed 305 failures.

An increase of 9280 freight car loadings for the week ended January 19 over the preceding week has been reported by the Association of American Railroads. Sharp increase in miscellaneous freight, coal, forest products, and coke loading did their part in bringing about the total rise for the week.

New residential building permits were the leading factors in increased building operations during the month of December. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, figures based on reports from 764 cities with 10,000 or more population, show a total of 37.6 per cent increase in building activity in December 1934 over the corresponding month of 1933.

Chain Store Age states that December trade among its subscribers reached 93.5 of the 1929-1931 average. This was six points higher than in December 1933. Variety stores had 6 per cent more sales in December 1934, than in December 1933, according to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. The Alexander Hamilton Institute estimates that the value of department store sales in 1934 was 13 per cent higher than in 1933. Wholesale prices are now nine per cent higher than they were year ago.

A "sharp" reversal in normal trends during December and the first three weeks in January has given factory employment and general industrial production more than normal seasonal increases, according to the Federal Reserve Board. In December, its index of business activity advanced to 85 or 11 points higher than in November.

It is often asked what percent of the business firm's dollar goes to the wage earner. The American Iron and Steel Institute reports that 43 cents out of every dollar realized from gross sales between 1930 and 1933 was paid out as salaries and wages. In 1929, the peak year of the boom, the workers 'share was 37 cents; in 1918, 34 cents.

December broke payroll records for the month for fifteen years, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, by a raise in factory employment of 1.7 per cent and in payrolls of 6.2 per cent. It is estimated that 340,000 workers were added with a weekly payroll increase of $10,800,000.

Continued increase in business activity was shown by the advance in electric power output in the week ended January 26. The Edison Electric Institute reported that this totaled 1,781,666,000 kilowatt hours, an crease of 10.6 per cent over the same week of 1934. In the prior week ended January 19, the increase was 9.4 per cent over the corresponding week of 1934.

Bank clearings continue to rise according to the Dun & Bradstreet report of 22 leading cities in the United States. The week ended January 23, recorded an increase of 15.8 per cent over the corresponding week in 1933 and the week ended January 30, showed a 5.9 per cent increase over the comparable period for the previous year.

Class I railroads of the United States installed 24,103 new freight cars in 1934, reports the Association of American Railroads. In 1933, the number placed in service was 1879. In addition, last year, the roads placed in service 59 new steam locomotives and 31 new electric locomotives. In 1933, only one locomotive was added.

A gain of 3.2 in weekly earnings and an increase of 1.1 hours in the average work week in 25 industries was reported by the National Industrial Conference Board for the month of December over November. In addition the board reports an annual increase of 3.1 in employment in 1934 over 1933.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK

Auto Code Extended: An amendment extending the Automobile Code until June 16, the expiration date of the NIRA, is one of our amendments just approved by President Roosevelt. The other three provide that time and a half shall be paid all employees working more than 48 hours in any one week; that the Automobile Labor Board be continued, and that the industry bring out new models in the fall, when possible, and hold automobile shows preferably at that season of the year.

Try To Get Restaurants and Bakeries Together: The question as to just when a restaurant merges into a bakery is pending between code authorities of the industries and the Industrial Appeals Board has asked the appointment of a joint committee to work out a solution. Under the Baking Code restaurant employes would work fewer hours and get more pay.

Bituminous Coal Price Boards: The Bituminous Coal Code's present method of establishing minimum prices and setting up arbitration boards to handle disputes arising from price schedules has been extended until April 30 by the NIRB. This action was taken to meet an emergency in the industry.

Match Industry: In order to give American match manufacturers relief from foreign competition, the NIRB has issued an order, effective for the coming half year, relieving members from the code provision that none "shall guarantee prices and floor stocks against decline in prices." Under actual operation, the American firms found that this provision worked a hardship on them, because it left them at a disadvantage in competing with foreign firms not subject to the Match Code.

Hollywood Complaints Settled: The Studio Labor Board, established to handle labor troubles arising in Hollywood studios under the Motion Picture Industry Code, settled 225 complaints in the first eight months of its existence. The representatives of the producers, labor and the government, comprising the board, have worked together so efficiently that no appeal has been taken from any of its decisions.

Embroidery Design Registration Proposed: The Schiffli embroidery field is considering a plan to follow the silk field into design registration. By registering designs, the silk firms have been able to reserve patterns for their originators, as no design may be employed until it has been compared with those on file to establish its originality. The embroidery firms have had much difficulty in reserving designs. A public hearing to consider the proposal will be held by NRA on February 11.

The Minimum Mark-Ups on Cigarettes: The NIRB has extended the orders establishing minimum mark-ups of cigarettes under the Wholesale and Retail Tobacco Codes until March 30. The NRA recognized an emergency due to destructive price cutting on July 12, last, and issued the first orders for minimum mark-ups. Mark-ups are minimum percentages which must be added to the cigarette manufacturer's prices. They were designed to stop the use of cigarettes as "loss leaders."

May Stop Use of Script For Wages: The NRA Advisory Council has recommended to the NIRB that the use of script in paying wages be prohibited. Script has been widely used in the bituminous coal industry, but is now causing difficulties in the lumber, steel and textile fields. One of the proposals is that "no employee shall be required as a condition of employment to trade at a store or to rent a home specified by his employer."

Knitted Outerwear Situation: The NRA has had a stabilizing influence on the knitted outerwear industry, according to the Code Authority. At its request, the NIRB has extended for 90 days the regulations for the contract system of producing garments for infants and children. Under this system, employment has been fairly well maintained even in the off season and the average weekly earnings of workers have been held at constant levels much better than before the system was inaugurated. At the same time wholesale and retail prices have not been increased.

Dry Fruit People Get Code: The firms which pack dried prunes, raisins, peaches, apricots, apples, figs and pears in the Pacific Coast states have been granted their own code of fair competition. The Pacific Coast Fruit Council will act as code authority. The members of the industry will be grouped into five divisions, each with representatives on the Code Authority.

NIRB Bans Use of "Shops:" "Shops" set up in private apartments or living quarters violate the code provisions abolishing homework. About 100 codes ban homework and hundreds of thousands of workers are effected. The administration order permits persons to engage in homework if allowed the same rate of wages as is paid for similar work in the factories, provided that they have secured certificates from the Departmen tof Labor and are either physically incapacitated or are needed at home to attend invalids.

Auto Rebuilders and Refinishers Get Code: The President has approved a code for the auto rebuilding and refinishing trade, effective February 4. It will apply to about 8000 establishments, employing 70,000 workers and reporting an annual sales volume of about $390,000,000. The code prohibits overtime work.

LINCOLN ESSAYS BY STUDENTS OF HIGH SCHOOL

The following won honorable mention in the Lincoln Essay Contest, held Tuesday of last week at the Jefferson Union High School:

LINCOLN THE MAN
By Helen Bull

Lincoln's face is homely
As far as features go,
But he is handsomer to me
Than any man I know.
His brow is lined with worry
From other people's cares
And on his lean and kindly face
A patient smile he wears.
—Katherine Sharp.

On a November afternoon of long ago, a throng of people gathered around a crudely built platform. The great men of the world were there from many states and beyond the seas. The common people were there in a great multitude; scattered among them were generals, statesmen, ambassadors, governors and judges. Surrounding them were thousands of newly made graves.

The Civil War was at its crisis. The government and all the states were seething in unrest, misery, grief and terror. No one knew the outcome. Europe was hostile, the North divided, the future of nations and peoples hung in the balance, and at that solemn moment a sadfaced man, with a far-away look in his eyes and undying hope in his heart, towered above them and said, "government of the people shall not perish from the earth."

Lincoln's address at Gettysburg shall never be forgotten. The battle of Gettysburg may fade from the memory of men, but Lincoln's words are immortal, for he had the vision of faith, the voice of hope, the message of inspiration and the word of power. No man was more devoted to peace than Abraham Lincoln and none would more to preserve it, but it was not a "peace any price," but peace with justice. That point of his alone, gives you an insight to his character. He stood for the highest world ideals. They were, "peace among ourselves and other nations of the earth," a peace characterized of strength for the strong and gentleness toward the weak, devotion to justice, love of liberty, and consecration to humanity.

These ideals are just as fitting in our life as they were in his. We need his hope and faith in "government of the people, by the people, and for the people." Lincoln had the vision of the seer and the voice of a prophet. He wanted us to keep our faith in the common people and to know, that although we suffer wrong and injustice at the hands of some of the government officials, that though they be ambitious, unjust or corrupt at times, still we have the best government in all the world. Ours is the best country on earth, ours is the best flag that the sun shines upon, and ours is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

In the affection of America, Lincoln stands first; his spirit is marked indelibly in our hearts.

GIANT SERPENTS

The Smithsonian institution in Washington is in possession of evidence that sea serpents as large as the biggest of living land snakes once swam in the offshore waters near the present site of the National Capital. This is in the form of a single fossil vertebra of backbone joint, picked up on Belvedere beach, Va. By comparing this one bone with those of living serpents, the United States National museum has estimated that the Virginia sea serpent must have been about 25 feet long and thick in proportion, which would be a very good size even for a python today. Remnants of contemporary sea dwelling serpents almost as large as the Virginia specimen have been unearthed in New Jersey and Alabama.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE SHOULD BE LIQUID

(Ask any doctor)

For your own comfort, and for your children's safety and future welfare, you should read this:

The bowels cannot be helped to regularity by any laxative that can't be regulated as to dose. That is why doctors use liquid laxatives.

A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

The right liquid laxative dose gives the right amount of help. When repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, natural laxatives that form no habit — even in children. Its action is gentle, but sure. It will clear up a condition of biliousness or sluggishness without upset. Every druggist has it.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering impurities from the blood stream. But kidneys get functionally disturbed—lag in their work—fail to remove the poisonous body wastes.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, attacks of dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains; feel "all worn out."

Don't delay! For the quicker you get rid of these poisons, the better your chances of good health.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They tend to promote normal functioning of the kidneys; should help them pass off the irritating poisons. Doan's are recommended by users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

SYNOPSIS

Theodore Gatlin adopts a baby, "Penelope," in an effort to solve his matrimonial troubles. But his wife has never wanted her, and their affairs end in the divorce court. Ten-year-old Penelope is given into the keeping of Mrs. Gatlin. At a baseball game a ball strikes Penelope on the nose. Mrs. Gatlin spirits the child to Europe. Gatlin wills Penelope all his money, and is about to begin a search for her when a motor accident ends his life. Some ten years later, in San Francisco, Stephen Burt, rising young psychiatrist, is presented by Dan McNamara, chief of police, with a new patient—Nance Belden, a girl with a dual personality, for which her "saddle nose" is in part responsible. McNamara does not think she is a criminal and obtains Burt's testimony in court. Lanny, the doctor's office nurse, is also won over. Nance's criminal record outweighs Doctor Burt's explanation of her case and she is sent to San Quentin penitentiary. Lanny visits her and Nance persuades her to smuggle out a letter which a confederate of Nance steals. Nance escapes, although shot, and goes to Lanny's apartment. Lanny tells Chief McNamara, who orders her to bring Nance to his apartment. Details of Nance's escape are made public.

"Yeah!" A throaty growl. "Got to, Doc. Got to protect society. Stephen looked puzzled, so the chief continued. "If I let that girl graduate from San Quentin, she'll come out with a broader knowledge of crime and trickery and a greater contempt for society than when she went in. The only kind of criminal I fear is the smart one; I can always catch the boobs promptly, but sometimes it takes a long time to get acquainted with the artistic genius of a real craftsman. They're like writers, Doc. They have a style all their own and you've got to learn their style. And about the time you think you've learned it, you pick up some bird that's guilty and he isn't the man you thought he was. He's just stolen his master's stuff. Nance Belden is too brilliant to turn loose on the world, Doc. She's a leader—a leader of men. She'd make the balls, and her crew would fire them and always be covered up."

He ruffled his pompadour. "Well, Doc, I've gotten her away from her gang. She's lost them and they've lost her. And they must never get her back."

"Would you like to know who they are?"

"Of course. I'm normally curious."

"I can find out for you," said Stephen.

"How?" Dan McNamara looked doubtful.

"Nance will tell me."

"You're crazy, Doc. You don't know the code. They die, but they don't squeal. There is honor in their dishonor, and in their weakness there is a strength that amazes me."

"She wouldn't do it voluntarily, of course, but just now, in her weakened state, I'm sure I could hypnotize her. Get her to look fixedly into a mirror, you know, like this. Once I secure control of her subconscious mind, she'll answer my questions. And after I wake her up she'll have complete amnesia for the experience; she will never know she peached on her pals.

CHAPTER V

The chief smiled. "Of course I know that hypnotism is being used by advanced psychiatrists and particularly by Morton Prince and William McDougall. I've read their books. The modern chief of police isn't modern, Doc, if he isn't a pretty good lay psychologist and psychiatrist. I don't know what a criminologist is, but I suppose he's a bird that studies the criminal actions and tendencies of criminals and tries to reduce crime to its lowest common divisor. That's the bunk. The thing to do is to know their minds and why they act like they do; if you can cure what makes them go, criminology becomes a dead science.

"Yes, I know all about hypnotism and I know something you've forgotten. Your power of suggestion on a patient in the hypnotic state isn't powerful enough to make him steal or commit murder if he's an honest man. His acquired instincts of morality, which lie in his subconscious mind, are too strong for you. And the most powerful acquired instinct in the mind of a crook is that he mustn't squeal. That's his idea of immortality! You try it on Nance Belden and she'll tell you almost anything but who her friends are, where they live and how they make a living."

"Well, we shall see—at another time. Meanwhile, what are you going to do with this girl? You can't keep her here, because that's dangerous unless you have her watched. And whom can you trust to watch her?"

"How about Lanny?"

"Lanny is my office nurse and I can not get along without her. She's under suspicion now and we've got to kill that. She'll be watched, will she not?"

"I suppose so. Even if I pass the word to lay off her, I can never be sure one of my men won't watch her independently. On a case where it would be a big feather in his cap and mean a lot of publicity to capture a celebrated criminal, lots of dicks prefer to work alone and in secret."

"Then Lanny must not come to your house again. And yet, this girl must be parked somewhere until her wound heals. She's suffering from the shock of this emotional experience now; she's lost considerable blood and suffered some pain, and for five hours she's suffered from exposure. Her garments are soaking wet."

"If she forgot to tell those men to bring some dry clothing for her to hop into, once she got aboard the boat, my heart will just about break. That would be one flaw in a perfect job—and I can't stand flaws."

And Dan McNamara strode into the room where Nance lay with her hand in Lanny's. "Why didn't you tell your friend to bring you some dry clothes?" he demanded.

Nance smiled up at Lanny. "He thinks I'm a nut, after all, Lanny. Why, of course I wouldn't overlook that detail. I changed my clothes, but when we crossed the bay it was rough and there was a police boat on our trail. He had to outrun them—and you do forty miles an hour through a mile of tide-rips and you'll all but drown in the spray!"

"Thank God for that," the chief murmured. "I'm proud of you and your friends, Nance. I hope neither of them was hit."

For the barest fraction of a second Nance hesitated, then answered. "No, they got through all right, but how they did is a mystery. The boat was riddled."

Dan McNamara came back into the living room and on his heavy face was the faintest, most cryptic of grins.

"I'm going to get one or both of Nance's friends, Doc," he exulted. "One of them was hit, and he'll have to have medical attention. Not that I want to land either one of them for this job, but because I want to give them the once-over. At that they might be somebody we're looking for."

"Did Nance tell you one of them had been hit?"

"No, but she hesitated half a second when she told me neither of them had been hit. She never hesitates ordinarily. Her co-ordination is lightning fast—well, you get so, Doc, that you know when they're lying. Go to the telephone, call up your home and ask if you've had any telephone calls within the past hour."

Stephen obeyed and was informed that a man, who refused to leave his name, had called up three times and had left word he would call again; that he had seemed very anxious to know when the doctor would return.

"I knew it—I knew it." Dan McNamara's pride in his own perspicacity was almost juvenile. "I figured Nance would tell them to go to you. And I'll make another prophecy. They'll admit they are friends of hers and that she sent them there. She's told them you're her friend and that you'll not turn them up to me. A wounded crook is always up against it, Doc, unless he knows a crooked doctor. The hospitals and ninety-nine and nine-tenths of the doctors will report to the police when they receive a call from a patient suffering from knife or gunshot wounds. And in this case the radios have broadcast the warning of two hundred and fifty dollars out for Nance too—standing state reward for recapturing an escaped convict.

"Come on, Doc. I'll go to your home with you and pick these birds up."

"No, you shall not. I wouldn't turn those two men over to you for ten thousand dollars. They're too—"

"Yes, they have guts. They can be trusted on a particular job I want to put through. Word of honor, Steve. I'll not pinch them. I just want to talk with them."

A block from Stephen's home Dan McNamara got out of the doctor's car. He had already received from Stephen Burt a description of the ground-floor plan of his house. And Stephen had agreed to leave his latchkey under the mat at the front door.

The chief watched Stephen put up his car and enter his home. A light was shining in the entrance hall, and this light Stephen, in accordance with the chief's instructions, switched off.

In about five minutes the chief saw this light switched on and off twice. That meant the doctor had received another telephone message. Then the light was switched on and off ten times. That meant the patient would arrive in about ten minutes, so Dan McNamara hid himself in the deep shadow of a tradesman's entrance at the side of a house across the street, and waited.

In ten minutes almost to the second, a car, with drawn curtains, drove up to the house and two men got out. The chief could see that one of them had to have assistance, so the driver got out and helped the other man half drag, half carry, the wounded man up the steps. Stephen opened the door and the three men entered; immediately McNamara ran across the street and up the front steps behind them, found the latchkey under the mat, opened the door and stepped inside. He could hear voices in Stephen's reception room, so he drew his pistol and stepped silently up to the entrance of it.

"Put 'em up, boys," he ordered cheerfully. He drew back his left lapel and revealed his blue and gold shield. "No necessity to argue in the smoke. This isn't a hanging matter."

He forced the two unwounded men to stand with their backs toward him while he ran his facile hands over their persons and relieved each of a pistol. He "broke" both guns and placed the cartridges in his pocket.

"I beg your pardon, Doctor, for entering your house unannounced, but you left your front door unlatched and I couldn't resist. I had a notion these men might call upon you. Just a hunch because the warden tipped us off to watch the home of your office nurse, Miss Lanning. So, while watching the home of the servant I concluded to watch that of the master, also. Sit down, boys. Never mind us, Doc. The man on the table needs all of your attention. Fix him up nicely and let him lie there until I come back. He can't run away, and if he tries, don't you let him. You other men come with me down to the central office till I see if we have anything on you. I don't appear to have the honor of your acquaintance, but we'll look the rogues' gallery over and compare fingerprints. While there's life, there's hope."

"You're all wet, Chief," the driver of the car replied pertly.

"Perhaps—but not as wet as your friends." And McNamara chuckled at his little joke. "You can't do forty an hour through the tide-rips off Alcatraz island without throwing some spray. You got an open fireplace in your house, Doctor?"

Stephen saw that McNamara was pretending they had not previously met. "Yes, Chief. In the drawing room. It's all set."

"I want to warm these boys up and dry them out. They did good work this afternoon and they deserve good treatment. Drop that wounded man long enough to dig up a couple of stiff jolts of spiritus frumenti for my lads, will you, Doc? I always warm a cold man from the outside in and from the inside out."

"Thank you, Chief," both men muttered.

The three retired to the drawing room and the chief tossed one of the men a box of matches. "Fire up," he commanded. "Then draw yourself up to the blaze and drink the grog the doctor will give you. Where's your pal hit?"

"Top of the right shoulder, calf of the left leg and biceps of the left arm."

"So he's the chap that dragged Nance out of the water, eh? He was in the rear cockpit, but you were up front driving the boat. There are forty bullet holes in the rear of that boat." He sighed. "These machine guns certainly spray things. You didn't drop your own machine gun overboard, either. They're too valuable and hard to get. A Thompson, I suppose. A Tommy gun and a Tommy man! Visiting brethren—from Chicago, I suppose. That's why we haven't met before. Pardon me a minute while I look for the Tommy gun in your car. And if you want to die in a hurry just try beating it out the back way while I'm gone."

He returned in less than a minute with the one-man machine gun in his hands. "We've got Nance Belden where you dropped her," he announced, "so while you're lapping up that whisky, tell me all about it."

"So Nance told you where to look for us, eh?" The man who had handled the motor boat spoke with withering contempt and hatred. Instantly Dan McNamara cuffed him viciously on the side of the head.

"Apologize for that," he roared. "You're so d—d crooked you think everybody else is, too."

The man mumbled an apology.

"No, Nance didn't tell me, you rat," McNamara went on, "and I didn't ask her, because I knew she wouldn't tell. But I did think she'd tip you off to call on this doctor. You dropped her at the home of his office nurse; I put two and two together and decided to investigate—all by myself. And here we are. Got any idea why I came alone?"

"No."

"Because I wanted to save you from the consequences of the job you pulled off this afternoon. I'm in sympathy with that, and as far as I'm concerned Nance Belden isn't going back to San Quentin. And she isn't going back to your gang, either. Now, you play the game with me and I'll play it with you. Double-cross me and I'll hang something hard on you, and you and your friends won't be heard of in public for a long time."

GOOD WILL EXHIBIT TO BE OUTSTANDING

An exhibit of Christian Science activities, having as its purpose the furtherance of international goodwill, and housed in its own building, will be one of the outstanding features of the California Pacific International Exposition, which opens in San Diego, May 29.

IMPROVEMENT BODY IS ORGANIZED HERE

der. Mrs. Ann Eason was chosen to attend to the publicity.

The Advisory Board held a meeting on Sunday morning for the purpose of formulating a program of procedure. The board reported, on Tuesday evening of this week, to another meeting of the club. The following outline of the improvements sought to be obtained was suggested:

(1) A Community Center building on the site of the present Vista Grande school; (2) An addition to the library building; (3) development and improvement of the Daly City Park site at South Parkview and North Parkview avenues; (4) erection of an auditorium building in this park; (5) building of a new and modern fireproof jail; (6) modernization of the city's fire houses; (7) modernization of the City Hall; (8) laying of water mains and installation of a fire alarm system in the Colma section of the city.

It was pointed out that these improvements could be made at a cost not to exceed $30,000, in view of the fact that the federal government at the present time is seeking to assist in financing such local projects in order to increase employment.

The matter of providing new playgrounds in various sections of the city was also discussed at the last meeting and plans to be suggested by the Advisory Board will be considered at future sessions.

The club will meet every Tuesday evening at the city hall hereafter.

FOUNDERS' DAY CANDLE LIGHTING AT JEFFERSON HI

P. T. A. Renders Program Commemorating Work Of National Heads

Appropriate ceremonies and a fine attendance marked the Founders' Day program in the Little Theater Tuesday evening, of this week.

Folloying the usual opening procedure, community singing, led by Mr. Stevens, was enjoyed by those present. At the close of the business session, the president presented Mrs J. Walker, Founders' Day chairman who took charge of the program.

A group of girls from the high school chorus sang "America, the Beautiful," after which a ceremony commemorating the years of service of the National Congress of P. T. A. presidents was given by eight members of the unit. A beautiful birthday cake on the stage was the center of interest. As each reader, in her tribute, indicated the years served by each National president, Guinevere Callsen lighted the corresponding number of candles until all thirty-eight were lighted. It was an impressive moment when candles glowed for Mrs. Schoff, who for eighteen years had held high the torch, believing that:

"As their dreams, so they are;
They shape in thought what soon they shape in deed;
And what they daily hold, they grow to be."

The program was concluded with the singing of Annette Squire's beautiful song, "Love of Children."

During the social hour which followed in the student's cafeteria, delicious cake and coffee were served by a very fine hospitality committee

The history of the unit was given and messages from past presidents unable to be present, were read by Mrs. Bentley. The members were happy to greet Mrs. C. D. McKee past president, who had come from San Rafael to be present at this meeting.

The president requested Mr. Ferguson, good friend of the Parent-Teacher work and of the boys and girls, to light the ten birthday candles for the unit, after which all joined in singing the Scotch ballad, "When I Was Twenty-one."

CHILD WELFARE PROMOTION AT DISTRICT MEET

Members of P. T. A. Renew Allegiance To Cause Of Children's Interest

Renewing allegiance to the magnificient cause of child welfare, Seventeenth District, C. C. P. T., represented by over 200 delegates throughout San Mateo County, at Burlingame High School last Friday fittingly observed Founders' Day, paying tribute to the memory of Alice McLellan Birney, who wished for all children opportunities for growth, and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, another great heart whose material aid fostered the National Congress of Mothers.

Mrs. Charles E. Roe, field secretary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, honored Seventeenth District by her presence as speaker and guest. Mrs. Roe urged members to always be conscious of the movement they are promoting, also discussed the International Federation of Mome and School, bringing out interesting facts in regard to opportunities of youth in foreign countries for elementary and secondary education.

"The meaning of Founders' Day," was the subject of an inspiring address by Mrs. E. K. Strong of Stanford University, state chairman Parent Teacher education, extension and correspondence courses. Mrs. Strong traced the history of the organization down through the years from the first kindergardens to parent-education opportunities of today.

Mrs. Roy Pratt of San Francisco, third vice-president of C. C. P. T., made a short talk, delivering a message of cheer.

Enthusiastically received was the impressive Founders' Day pageant, "A Little Leaven," written and circulated by Mrs. Sterling Price, drama chairman Seventeenth District, which was presented in pantomine, demonstrating the achievements of the Congress down through the thirty-eight years of its development. Mrs. Price was assisted by Mrs. Lyle D. Wise, San Carlos unit, district past presidents and presidents of local units, and the San Carlos Toy Orchestra, composed of children from San Carlos school. The children presented a colorful picture in their bright hued uniforms and their numbers were encored.

In the absence of Mrs. J. E. Morrish, district chairman of music, Mrs. Lyle D. Wise, led the community singing. During the afternoon session pupils of Burlingame High School, under the direction of Elmer Young, presented the following numbers:

Piano solo by Henry Treager; ("Rondo Capriccioso" by Mendelssohn); "Jewel Song" from Faust, by Edith Auton, accompanied by Margaret Batdorf; Cello solos by Virginia Howe, accompanied by her mother, ("Aumumn by Tschaikoweky and "Cantable" by Locktolli).

Honored guests were: Mrs. Charles E. Roe, fied secretary, N. C. P. T.; Mrs. Roy A. Pratt, third state vice president; Mrs. E. K. Strong, state chairman Parent Teacher education; Mrs. Wm. J. Hayes of Burlingame, National chairman exceptional child; Mrs. E. I. Bartlett, state chairman home reading and past president Seventeenth District 1932-1933; Miss Nancy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools, San Mateo County; Miss Clara B. Dills, county librarian; and District Past Presidents Mrs. L. G. Owen, Miss Victoria Roussell and Mrs. J. R. Spann.

Mrs. John J. Garland, president Seventeenth District, made several inspiring talks as she conducted the meeting, reminding the association of the high place it occupies in regard to the parents and teachers, the schools, homes and children.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. H. P. Elder, second vice president and director of the department of organization. Assisting chairmen were: Mrs. Edward Simpkins, Mrs. M. M. Elder, Mrs. D. J. Cameron, Mrs. Helen Gothan, Mrs. C. A. Andrews, Mrs. Garrett H. Converee and Mrs. Richard Seeney.

Founders' Day luncheon was beautifully appointed and arranged by Mrs. R. D. Richards, district reciprocity vchairman, Mrs. E. R. Burton, associate.

Exhibit No. 1 of the Print Makers Society of Pasadena was displayed by Miss Clara B. Dills, county librarian. In the collection were examples of outstanding etchers like Walter Tittle of New York, Carbonati of Italy, Alfred Hutty, Marjorie Ryerson, John Taylor Arms and many others. A number of block prints in black and white, also some color block prints were displayed. The exhibit came from Salt Lake City, and when it leaves San Mateo County it goes to Texas.

Under the direction of Mrs. Garrett H. Converse, a magazine skit which created much merriment was put on by the following magazine chairmen: Mrs. Sidney Cantwell, Mrs. Esperance, Mrs. Edward Simpkins, Mrs. W. A. Card, Mrs. Helen Gothen and Mrs. Holton Hornbeck.

"In Memoriam" was read by Mrs. H. L. Rankin of McKinley unit, as the association paid tribute to Mrs. George Holt, whose music and inspiration will be sadly missed by the district.

Be sure and send copies of Founders' Day publicity to Founders' Day chairman, Mrs. D. J. Cameron.

The next rehearsal of the Mother Singers will be at the Roosevelt School, February 25 at 1:30 o'clock.

The last of the series of lectures on Children's Literature will be held at the Burlingame Public Library at 10:30 a. m., February 20. Miss Nanette V. Morgan, head children's librarian, will talk on "Things to Avoid" in children's literature.

DALY CITY POST CANDIDATE WINS THIRD HONORS

(By Lesley M. Hill, Pub. Chmn.)

The candidate of Daly City Post No. 410, American Legion, Warren Miller, won third place in six elected pages for the Third Annual Veterans Fete held in San Francisco on Washington's Birthday. The Washington Birthday celebration held this year, and participated in by all veteran organizations of the Bay area, was one of the largest and most outstanding patriotic demonstrations held in the entire nation.

The entire net proceeds of the fete returns to the organizations participating, for veterans relief in their own community.

Daly Post No. 410 is proud to have the son of one of our members represent our post and Daly City in this magnificient affair and wish to thank all our loyal friends for their co-operation and support in making his election as a page possible.

There will not be a social dance held in Legion Hall Saturday, tomorroy, as previously announced.

Don't forget our next regular meeting Wednesda, February 27. The unit and juniors are invited guests. Commander Trier will present the Victory Stars to the juniors. The social committee has something planned after the meeting.

Now that the Washington's Birthday celebration has passed, Daly City post is devoting its time and energy to helping Comrades Tallmadge and Riordan form a Squadron of the Sons of the American Legion. Sons, stepsons or adopted sons of Legionairres or sons of veterans who died in service during the World War or since are eligible to membership in the Sons of the American Legion.

In keeping with the ideals of the American Legion to promote and transmit to posterity those principles of patriotism which characterized our services in the World War, and which have inspired our organization since then, it has been conceived that an effective to accomplish this purpose would be to take our sons with us in this movement. For some years members of the Legion have felt that our sons have a definite place in Legion work.

Every boy whose father was in the service is proud of that fact. In his own individual way among his fellows he seeks recognition of the honor that he is the son of a man with an honorable war record. His heart and soul seek to copy his father's patriotism. Here is a plan to mold the boy's future around this splendid ideal.

The preamble to the constitution of the Sons of the American Legion states: "Proud possessors of a priceless heritage, we, sons of veterans of the World War, do associate ourselves together as Sons of the American Legion for the following purposes: . . ." Then follows the preamble similar to the preamble of the American Legion.

Daly City Post feels that this Squadron will be of great benefit and inspiration to the members.
